Baling Press Machine Manufacturer in India: Kelvin Water Technologies is a leading manufacturer of high-quality baling press machines in India. Their product range includes versatile options such as vertical balers for small-scale operations and horizontal balers for large-scale material processing. These machines are designed to efficiently compress and bind various materials into compact, manageable bales. Widely used in recycling centres, manufacturing units, and the agricultural sector, KWTPL's baling press machines are perfect for handling materials like cardboard, plastics, metals, and agricultural waste.
